

VOLUNTEER WORKDAY SEED COLLECTION

Join us at the Avian Preserve to learn how to collect native wildflower seeds for propagation! The Preserve's native pollinator meadows will be providing seeds for current and future restoration projects. Led by field botanist, Heather Liljengren of LocalLand Consulting.

Saturday, October 12th
9:00 AM

Free and open to the public.
Registration is required to communicate weather-related changes.

<https://bit.ly/KLTactivities>
info@kentlandtrust.org or 860-488-9185

*This activity is for ages 10 and up.

KLT's Avian Preserve is located 15 North Kent Road.

The preserve map can be found at:
<https://www.kentlandtrust.org/anchor-page-for-avian-preserve>

Participants will want to wear long pants, sturdy shoes and socks that they can tuck their pants into or calf/knee high boots. Long sleeve shirt is recommended. Please bring water and a pencil.